The image shows a vertical, textured surface, likely the cover or binding of an old book. The left side is a lighter, off-white or light gray color with a visible paper grain. The right side is a dark, almost black, textured material, possibly leather or a dark cloth, which appears worn and aged. The boundary between the two materials is slightly irregular and runs vertically down the center of the image.

This is a vertical, high-contrast, black and white image. It appears to be a close-up of a textured surface, possibly a book cover or a piece of wood. The image is characterized by a dark, irregular shape on the left side, which could be a shadow or a part of the object. The rest of the image shows a light, textured surface with some vertical lines and a small, dark, irregular shape near the top. The overall appearance is abstract and textured.

Honey-moon Couple Lost.

A honeymoon couple is lost in Los Angeles and the father of the bride, F. H. Winn of Redlands, yesterday asked the police to locate the young persons. He wrote that Charles H. Since that time the two honeymooners evidently have been so wrapped in their happiness that they have failed to write to Redlands.

"Yes" for "No."

The police were yesterday asked to prohibit the prohibitionists from stealing "wet" thunder. R. J. Nixon, representative of a bill-posting concern, complained that his company had posted a number of boards in the city with enlarged facsimiles of sample ballots. Where the words "vote no" appeared they have been covered to read "vote yes," he declared. He did not know who was responsible, but wanted the police to find out.

EMPLOYEES OF HAMBURGER'S ENJOY BANQUET.

Buyers' Association of Great White Store Entertains the Five's Over Club at Delightful Banquet at Cafe Beautiful—Nearly Hundred at Feast.

To encourage members of the Five's Over Club in their work, and also to strengthen in general the spirit of co-operation among employees of the store, members of Hamburger's Buyers' Association entertained with a delightful banquet last night at the Cafe Beautiful. About 100 were present.

A programme of particular interest to the employees present was presented by D. A. Hamburger gave an interesting description of the progress of the store from the time it was started on the corner of Main and Requena streets in 1881. Rev. Baker P. Lee and Mrs. D. C. McCann, both spoke on subjects particularly appropriate to the occasion, and interested their auditors exceedingly. Robert Granger and Miss Arrie James gave vocal solos. A feature of the evening was the presentation of a set of fifteen books, "The World's Wit and Humor," to the Five's Over Club by W. J. Fitzpatrick. Rose Guggenheim responded in behalf of the club.

W. C. Chenfeldinger was toastmaster and E. H. Dart was chairman of the Entertainment Committee, which also included Mr. Fitzpatrick and E. V. Stewart.

Guests of honor included Rev. and Mrs. Baker P. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hamburger, Mrs. D. C. McCann and M. A. Hamburger. The decorations were appropriate for the season, a large number of Halloween posters being fastened to the pillars about the room. The tables were adorned with yellow chrysanthemums.

The Five's Over Club, consisting of about seventy women employees of the Hamburger store, was organized about three years ago to advance the interests and ability of its members, and to enable them to broaden intellectually. The Buyers' Association has as its purpose the social and business welfare of its members.

The Five's Over Club officers are as follows: Pearl Sims, president; Frances Weber, vice-president; Rachel Swanner, secretary; Lola Turner, treasurer. The officers of the Buyers' Association are as follows: Wallenstein, president; O. Bastlett and E. S. Stewart, vice-presidents; T. A. Coments, secretary, and O. S. Balzer, treasurer.

TELEPHONE DAY
TO BOOST FORD.*Endless Chain of "Hello"
Calls Next Wednesday.*Personalities Shoo Dove from Democratic Meeting.*Republican Rally at Monrovia is Huge Success.

Next Wednesday is to be "Hello Day," when an endless chain of telephone calls will be started in the interest of the candidacy of W. J. Ford for District Attorney.

Hundreds of women who are supporting Mr. Ford and actively engaged on various committees will begin using the telephone early in the morning, calling their friends and telling their friends to call others and remind them of the necessity for voting for Mr. Ford for District Attorney.

Miss Josephine Nell, who is chairman of the "Hello Day" activities for Mr. Ford, launched the movement yesterday at a meeting of the Women's Republican League at the Alexandria. The novel method of campaigning met with instant and enthusiastic approval. Several prominent women enlisted in the cause and will aid the general Ford committees in turning home more conversation of next Wednesday than will be looked upon any other day during the year.

"Hello Day" is set aside for the purpose of having the friends of Mr. Ford call up their friends and remind them of the importance of the office of District Attorney and of the necessity of having a lawyer of Mr. Ford's known experience and ability as District Attorney of this county, also requesting them to telephone their friends in turn, and so on, thus each one starting an endless chain of telephone calls," said Miss Nell.

"Hello Day, Orange Day and other days set aside for popularizing and advertising various industries of California have served a valuable purpose in educating California to the magnitude and importance of their resources, but the importance of securing the election of the right man for public office, men of ability, experience and integrity, men whom the people know are best fitted for the position they seek, is just as important, if not more important, than lending assistance to the success of our industries."

WOMEN LAUD CANDIDATES.
At the meeting of the league at the Alexandria, when the Ford innovation was launched, a score of women spoke for the various candidates. The novelty attracted a large audience of men and women, and not a few of the men were candidates themselves who wished to hear what others had to say about them.

Only a few of the candidates were permitted to speak, and toward the close of the meeting Harry A. Chamberlin, Republican aspirant for the Assembly from the Seventy-second District, addressed the women. "There has been too much 'rubber-stamping' in the Legislature," he declared. "By this I mean that members of the last Legislature voted for and against measures without knowing what they were. My opponent, Arthur G. Ruck, the 'Progressive' nominee, freely admits that he voted for a great many laws which he didn't know anything about, and yet he seeks re-election on his record. He attempts to excuse himself on the grounds that he didn't have time to read the laws, although the law provides for a recess of one month for that very purpose."

NO DOVE THERE.

DEMOCRATS NOT PEACEFUL.
The advertised "peace" meeting at Trinity Auditorium last night was anything but a peace meeting. It attracted a large audience and the audience were entertained by James D. Phelan, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, and Nathan Newby, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Tenth District.

Both speakers cast aside generalities and opened up their large-bore howlers on their opponents. "I find that audiences rather like personal references more than generalities," said Mr. Phelan. He scored Congressman Knowland for his part in the Panama Canal toll debate, and launched into a tirade against the "Progressive" opponent as well. Henry H. Hays, a temperamental unit for anything but a prosecutor.

Mr. Newby having been unsuccessful in getting Congressman Stephens to answer certain questions or to debate with him, charged the incumbent with having voted for the "million graft" in Congress.

Neither speaker was peaceable and the meeting was anything but gentle, excepting when George Patton spoke, in presiding officer, and he merely extended felicitations to the chief speakers as he introduced them. The meeting was one of the most pretentious held by the Democrats in the campaign, and brought out an even larger audience than that which greeted Senator Curtin, the gubernatorial nominee.

The Republican rally at Monrovia last night was an unqualified success. Several hundred attended and the meeting was held under the auspices of the Monrovia Republican Club and the Women's Franchise Club of Los Angeles, at the Women's Club house. H. J. Evans, president of the Monrovia club, presided. Mayor Wheaton of Long Beach, speaking for Frank C. Roberts, Republican Congressional nominee in the Ninth District, accused C. H. Randall, the hybrid nominee, of attempting to poison the minds of the voters against Mr. Roberts and at the same time pose as a prohibitionist when it is a matter of fact this is a State and not a Congressional question.

Mr. Roberts, who is a strong candidate in that part of his district, made a brief address in which he touched upon the necessity for electing Republicans who can and will restore protection to the citrus industry. H. A. Unruh, Republican Assemblyman candidate from the Sixty-ninth District, spoke of the vital business needs of the people of the San Gabriel Valley and the need of protection and encouragement at Sacramento.

George P. Adams of Los Angeles spoke for Capt. Fredericks. He showed the extravagances of the Johnson administration and assured the voters that Capt. Fredericks will bring economy to Sacramento. Mrs. Jefferson D. Gibbs also spoke for Capt. Fredericks.

The meeting was without question the largest political gathering of the campaign at Monrovia and showed the trend of sentiment in that locality.

Large Rally Tonight.

One of the biggest rallies of the Republican campaign will be that tonight in Eagles' Hall, No. 233 North Main street, under the auspices of the Republican League. The meeting will be the last formal one of the campaign. In addition to the strong speakers already announced Representative Joseph R. Knowland, who again arrives in the south today in his campaign for the United States Senate, has been added to the list. The chief speaker of the evening will be George W. Prince, a former Illinois Representative in Congress.

Speak for Osborne.

Strong additions to the force of speakers for Capt. Osborne, Republican nominee for Congress in the Tenth District, are Col. Holabird and O. R. W. Robinson, the latter a rival of Capt. Osborne for the Republican nomination at the August primary. Capt. Osborne made four speeches last night. He addressed the colored voters at No. 815 1/2 Birch street, and at No. 1115 Glass avenue, and later appeared at Hoegge Hall, East Hollywood, and at Cole Hall, Colerogrove.

Judges at Soldiers' Home.

An even dozen candidates for election and re-election to the Superior bench regaled the veterans of the Soldiers' Home yesterday afternoon with five-minute talks. The matinee was called for the judiciary and no other candidates were present. Those who spoke were Judges Willis Myers, Taft, Morrison, Sherk, Monroe, Jackson, Works and Hewitt, and Candidates Blair, Ruck and Stevens. The veterans gave close attention to the candidates and distributed the applause as evenly as possible.

Political Pickups.

The Lex Republican Club, composed of young law students, found their challenge for debate to the "Progressive" Law Club unaccepted, and at the regular meeting last night decided to invade the coming meeting of the Lex Club and debate the Lex Club members on the spot.

The Million Club will have a "political medley" next Wednesday at the club meeting in the Wilcox building when any member who has anything to say on politics may get up and say it.

Hon. Frank H. Short of Fresno will arrive in a few days to speak in the south during the closing days of the campaign. His first address will be next Wednesday night at Wilcox Hall in Hollywood, at a big Republican rally.

Edward Judson Brown, E. H. Barrett, Frank A. Duggan, Frank S. Forbes, H. A. Pierce, Howard R. Hinshaw, J. W. Summerfield and W. M. Rheinhardt, all candidates for Justice of the Peace of Los Angeles township, will speak at the Christ Socialist forum, Blackhawk Hall, Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Drums will beat in Boyle Heights tonight for Benion will make a tour of the city. He is the Republican nominee for the Assembly in the Sixty-sixth District. Preceded by a corps of drummers, speakers for Benion will make a tour of the city. He is the Republican nominee for the Assembly in the Sixty-sixth District. Preceded by a corps of drummers, speakers for Benion will make a tour of the city. He is the Republican nominee for the Assembly in the Sixty-sixth District.

DEATH OF DONALD W. McLEOD.

One of California's Early Growers of Oranges.

At Olivewood Cemetery in Riverside tomorrow afternoon will be laid at rest the remains of Donald W. McLeod, a pioneer orange-grower of Southern California, who died on Wednesday at his home, No. 1815 Arroyo street, Hollywood, where, for a little more than a year, he had lived with his daughter, Miss Clara Evans McLeod.

For nearly fifty years Mr. McLeod, who was a native of Nova Scotia, had been a resident of California, first in San Francisco, where, for a number of years, he was a book merchant, then settling in Riverside, where he was one of the leaders in the little group of men who established in that section the now thriving citrus industry. He was one of the first to engage in the growing of navel oranges, and he was active in the formation of the exchange system of handling and marketing the fruit. He was one of the charter members of Arlington Presbyterian Church, which he was an elder for thirty-three years, and in all those years he had a large part in the activities of the congregation and of the Sunday-school.

Although Mr. McLeod had been in failing health for the last two years, death came unexpectedly. He was found, chatting with Judge B. F. Bledsoe, recently appointed to the new Federal court in Los Angeles, when he expired. He had lived one more month he would have reached his seventieth birthday.

The wife of Mr. McLeod died six years ago at Riverside, and is buried at Olivewood Cemetery. In addition to the daughter at Hollywood is another daughter, Mrs. Bert C. Pond of Norfolk, Va.

LINKING THE OCEANS.

Banker and Highway Promoter of Illinois is Here Working for Road Connecting Coasts.

An interest in the general good roads movement has brought George W. Hughes, banker and president of the Springfield-Terre Haute division of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway, to Los Angeles. He arrived at the Clark yesterday. His home is at Hume, Ill.

"We have fancied that the people of Illinois and Indiana are more interested in good roads than that those of any other part of the country," said Mr. Hughes yesterday at the Clark, "but I have lately concluded that the movement for good roads increases in strength as you near the Pacific Coast. It is stronger in California than in any State that I have visited."

"Our division of the cross-continent highway will be completed early next spring. I find progress at many points along the great route. It is difficult to say when the highway will be completed from ocean to ocean, but from present indications it will be finished in three or four years."

Mr. Hughes will spend several weeks motoring over the famous roads of Southern California and will return home by motor car.

MORE LOVE OF MUSIC.

All signs of the piano from the purely mechanical to the highly spiritual have been studied by John R. Masse, Pacific Coast manager of the Eastman Piano Company. Beginning as a piano mover, he in turn was a tuner, player and finally a salesman of pianos. "I have gone the whole scale in the piano business," Mr. Masse declared yesterday at the Clark. "I know by experience how heavy they are. I can tune them and play them, and have sold a few instruments in my time." Mr. Masse has been devoting his attention to the piano for twenty-five years. He is clear that the human race's love of music is increasing rapidly. He regards music as a great civilizing force.

Coming Soon.*DRINK STAMPS
ARE THE NEXT.*ALL WINE PURCHASERS MUST PAY DIRECT TAX.

Producers also Taxed so Much Extra a Gallon Which Ultimately has to be Paid by Consumer, thus Adding to the Already High Cost of Luxuries.

The telephone in the office of Internal Revenue Collector Carter played a rate-a-plan all day yesterday. At the other end of the wire were numerous wine-makers of the Sixth District, who wanted to know about the provisions of the new tax law that was shoved through Congress by President Wilson that means an additional burden upon California wine-makers and wine-drinkers.

The Collector expects in a few days to have an official copy of the new law, but in the meantime its most important provisions, as agreed upon in conference by the Senate and House conference committee, whose report was afterward adopted by both sides, are made known.

Under the law there will be an added tax of 8 cents a gallon upon all wine as such, and every dollar collected from the sale of the 1,000,000 gallons of sweet and dry wine made in the local district, will come from the consumer or purchaser, and not the maker. Stamps will be furnished by the Collector, to be placed on each gallon or part of gallon of wine when sold or offered for sale.

The wine-maker, however, will be compelled to pay the 8 cents a gallon tax that must be collected on wine spirits or pure sweet wine, for spirit or sweet wine. This addition will result in the increased price asked for the wine.

One of the important features of the new law is that the wine law under which the country has been operating since 1890, has been repealed. This law authorized any producer of pure sweet wine, who is also a distiller, to use free of tax, so much of wine spirits as may be necessary to fortify the wine for the preservation of the saccharine matter; it also provided that wine spirits so used free of tax, should not be in alcoholic strength in excess of 14 per cent of the volume of such wines after such use; also, that all wine after fortification containing more than 24 per cent of alcohol or wine spirits should be forfeited; limiting the use of alcohol to 10 per cent of the volume of the wine.

While the local wine men are none too pleased with the tax laid on their product, they are somewhat of the thought that in this case, as in all others, the ultimate consumers will pay the burden. The addition of 8 cents a gallon on sweet and dry wine, will be provided for by the dealer; the 8 cents a gallon that must be met by the wine maker, for spirit, used to fortify sweet wine, will simply be added to the product.

They also recognize that since the effort required to defeat the Pernicious amendment to the Underwood tariff bill taxing brandy used for fortification purposes that just as soon as it was necessary for the government to raise more money, that the wine industry of California would be hit.

The varied provisions of the new law will make necessary the use of millions of stamps, but time will be required for their preparation, and it will be some days before the Collector will be able to comply with the requirements of the enactment.

"DRY" SUSPICIOUS.

See an Effort to Hamper Them in Extension of Auto Show Over the Date of Hobson's Speech Sunday.

A "wet" plot has been alleged by the followers of the "dry" as a result of the cancellation of the contract which the California Dry Federation had for the use of Shrine Auditorium for a morning, when Richmond Pearson Hobson is scheduled to speak. The Shrine management declares that there was a clause in the contract which reserved the right to extend the time of the automobile show until after the fifth, and that the "dry" declaration automatically. The "dry" declare, on the contrary, that the "wets" have brought pressure to bear upon the Shrine management and caused them to take advantage of a technicality to embarrass the "dry" program.

"We are not impeded, however," said S. W. Odell, president of the federation, last night. "We have suffered more or less confusion as a result of the affair, but we have succeeded in making arrangements for the use of Board Field at the University of Southern California, and will hold an outdoor meeting. Mr. Hobson is a speaker well able to reach the people, and the show will be open. As Board Field is situated but a short distance from the Shrine Auditorium, there will be little inconvenience."

Benites will be stationed at the auditorium, and any persons going there for the proposed show will be directed to the near-by field.

BACKED OUT OF IT.

Mother of Irene Levy Testifies to Blackmail Scheme Charged to Lawyers Now on Trial.

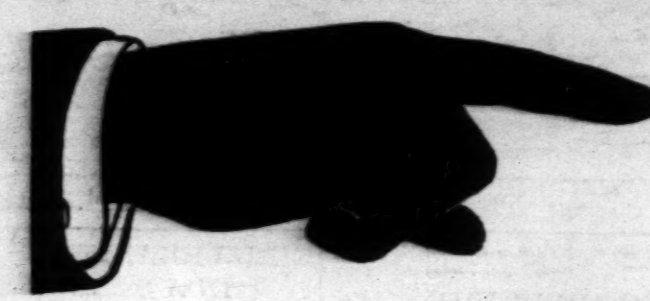

At the second trial of Charles E. McKelvey and W. H. Stevens on the charge of using the mails in a conspiracy to blackmail, Mrs. Phillips, mother of Irene Mary Brown Levy, testified yesterday to securing a payment of $1000 from Stevens, alleged to have been money that he secured from a local architect. She said she had withdrawn the case that had been prepared because she knew it was a matter of blackmail and she did not want to have anything to do with it.

Mrs. Weinstein, a stenographer employed by McKelvey and Stevens, said she had prepared the complaint in the suit brought by the Levy girl against George Zease, and also prepared similar suits against Bixby with Jeannette Ellis and Cleo Helen Barker as complainants.

Harry Leland, County Clerk, produced the records showing that the suits against Bixby had been regularly filed.

Kyle MacBratney, an optometrist of El Centro, who, when away from home, is known as George Zease, and to whom a letter signed W. H. Stevens was sent and forms the basis of one count in the indictment, testified that he was staying at the Jonquil apartments, and repeated in substance his testimony given in the other case.

W. H. Evans of Monrovia, also in receipt of one of the Stevens letters, testified.

of what the coffee trade think of the harmfulness of the coffee-drug, caffeine, is shown in their efforts to get rid of it—to get a coffee that doesn't contain caffeine!

When they do succeed in getting rid of some of the caffeine drug-content, the result is a weak, "clover-tea" decoction that few appreciate.

But after all their efforts to rid coffee of part of its caffeine, how about the other coffee-drug, tannin about 2-5 grains to every cup of coffee!

Tannin is the drug used to tan hides. Do you know what it does to your stomach? Not. Here is what good authorities say about it:

"Tannic acid in coffee interferes with digestion."

"The caffeine and theine in coffee and tea are cerebral stimulants, and the tannic acid is an astringent, affecting especially the muscular fibers of the intestinal walls."

"Tannic acid is universally condemned by all authorities as a hindrance to digestion and health."

Why keep on running the risk of serious interference with health. Why not quit a table beverage in its train a lot of trouble like nervousness, headache, heart, stomach, bowel disturbance, insomnia, etc.

A President of the United States in giving advice on the subject of reading books, said: "It isn't the harm that you'll find in trashy books. It is what you will not find in them." And so it is with breakfast Mush.

Mush made of Roman Meal is nature's food for youth, maturity and old age—containing whole wheat, rye and deodorized flax, with all their native strength elements left in, not exhausted by over-refining.

Roman Meal

Mush is a fine palatable dish without the "trimmings." Its natural nutty flavor makes a superior appeal to the palate. You can serve Roman Meal Mush with cream to which you need add only a comparatively small amount of sugar. Some prefer it without sugar. Others find it extremely delicious by allowing a small piece of butter to melt in the mush when served.

Roman Meal, pound for pound, has a greater food value than meats. Roman Meal comes in a full 3 lb. package and costs 85c per pound. Roman Meal makes Unmistakably Los Angeles society women last night's performance of the opera, "Patience," by the Flinders Opera, was utterly delightful. The performance was a triumph, the most successful one yet, in the history of the Flinders Opera. The performance was a triumph, the most successful one yet, in the history of the Flinders Opera. NEW YORK BUILDING, FINEST AND MODERN.

10 ANGELES (Los Angeles)

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
(At Home.) With reports of an increasing industrial activity, come statements from men high in the financial world, that an era of prosperity never before known is just before the American people. The cessation of business to a certain extent just after the outbreak of the great war in Europe, made necessary by uncertainty of our position, has been more than made up in the past few weeks and it now seems certain that additional facilities will be necessary to supply the wants of our customers. Reports from banking centers state the reserve houses were never in better condition than now.
(Abroad.) Two bond issues, of loans, of magnitude were reported, the first from Petrograd, wherein it is proposed to secure $40,000,000 on short-time notes from London. The other is an issue of 1,000,000,000 to be authorized by the Prussian Diet, but which will be allotted at home, foreign exchange was reported steady at all capitals.
(For details see financial page.)

JUST THE TROUBLE.
John Bassett Moore says the guarantee for peace is a sense of justice rather than armament. He misses the point. Nations sometimes care more about plunder than about peace, and justice to them often looks like giving injustice to the other country. The result is a violent need of armament.

BUENOS AIRES.
It has another subway and is bigger than anything on this side of the world excepting New York and Chicago. It is a city of much charm, and when North and South America become better acquainted through the Panama Canal business, the capital of Argentina will be the only city in the world of which Los Angeles could be jealous.

GOODS, NOT PREMIUMS.
The public will sympathize with the retail grocers who are seeking to eliminate all coupon schemes. If a woman goes to the store for a pound of sugar she is not trying to negotiate for a rocking chair or a trip around the world. The man who wants a clear does not care to pay a cent or two extra on a silver toilet set his wife may never get.

THE HONOR OF NATIONS.
All these nations are fighting for their honor. But the greatest victory in the world may not mean that a nation has saved its honor. Victory can be won by foul means as well as fair. The honor of a nation is not only in knowing how to win, but in how to recover nobly from defeat.
The great failure of Belgium may yet prove to be the greatest honor a nation has known.

AN UNPLEASANT FLYING.
We don't like plays that preach too much and are not fond of stories that are merely written to ridicule. They have nothing to do with art. They are based only by malice. Certainly they are never literature. Collier's Weekly is guilty of such a soiled and sordid piece of work this current number. You will notice that when people stoop to conquer they generally do more stooping than conquering.

LOOKING AHEAD.
Washington is inclined to doubt the good faith of Germany at the present convention of Mexican politicians and war-mongers. We think that for once Carranza and his associates are in the perfect good faith, for the simple reason that it would not pay him to discount. Why should he care about being provisional President when he can run for the office in the regular way a few weeks later? This is especially feasible, since it gets rid of Villa's objections. If he tried it now Villa would take it away from him, but if he waits for the election Villa is pledged to abide by the result.

TOBACCO USERS.
There are many people to whom the odor of tobacco is offensive. And while it would be an interference with personal liberty to attempt to suppress the use of tobacco, still there is considerable of the public nuisance about the fellow who goes into the street car, the moving-picture theater and into the close room with his clothing reeking from the saturated odor of tobacco. Some people put half-smoked, stale cigars in their pockets for future consumption—and the presence of such a person is about as disagreeable as a broken bottle of iodine form.

FINDING THE WAY.
It is one thing to indulge in fine sentiments. It is quite another to place these sentiments upon a working basis. Prison reform appeals to the hearts of the strong, yet acceptable methods that are at once fair to society while strengthening the moral fiber of the criminal and the unfortunate are difficult to evolve. It is easier to wish for them than to discover and prove them. The plan suggested by Capt. Fredericks is at once so sane and good, so kind and practical, that it must attract the admiration and respect of all who are sincere. The big idea in this plan is that all persons are not the same. They are not alike in fall or out of it. In the world degree of success and the difference in work and in environment place people safely enough. In prison there has not been enough differentiation. Capt. Fredericks proposes different treatment for those who deserve it, and this splendid idea would give every man a chance to outgrow the sickness that put him where he is and to let him walk again in the light with purpose in his heart, courage on his brow,

THE MAIN THING TO BE DONE.
The National Implement and Vehicle Association, composed of representative manufacturers and jobbers, has sent a circular to more than 30,000 American bankers, trade organizations and publicity agencies, expressing the belief that the bankers can lead the way to resumption of industry.
"For some months before the European war," says the letter, "general business conditions in this country were in an unsatisfactory way. Tariff changes, the new currency law, railroad rate decisions, proposed national legislation affecting business, etc., all tended to make American business men hesitate. The unfortunate result was mines, mills and factories either wholly closed or run on part time, and an ever-increasing army of the unemployed." Then came the war, making matters even worse.
For the consideration of bankers, the association offers the following suggestions, which, carried into effect, it believes will have salutary effect on industry and commerce:
"Urge the farmer who has harvested his grain not to speculate on the fluctuation of future prices.
"Recommend to the farmer of the South to diversify his crops. Experience has shown that a one-crop country cannot continue to bring prosperity to its farmers. The great wheat States of the Dakotas are diversifying. Our cotton States should do likewise.
"Preach preparedness for the 1915 harvest. Care in seed selection, proper tillage and cultivation will bring increased crops to meet the increased demands. More intensive cultivation quite as much as increased acreage will bring prosperity to the farmers.
"Increase the number of farms raising stock and thereby secure a natural fertilizer for the soil. Cattle, hogs and poultry mean ready money and bank accounts.
"Secure for the agricultural community the benefits provided in the new currency law by creating a demand for early opening of the various Federal reserve banks.
"Discourage all speculation, but encourage the expansion of legitimate business in the rural communities by reasonable extension of credit."
Then the letter goes on to say that while it is asserted that the European war has left the door wide open for this country to enter and secure the markets of the world, that cannot be done in a day, or in a year. "Let us first bring this country's industries back to their normal condition."
But that likewise cannot be done in a short time; nor can it be done by bankers, or by farmers, or by bankers and farmers together.
It must be done by a majority of the people of the United States, who alone have the power to restore the governmental policies under which the country's industries were prosperous.
All the things which, as the association's letter says, caused American business men to hesitate, and made business conditions unsatisfactory before the war—tariff changes, the new currency law, railroad rate decisions, national legislation detrimentally affecting business—came of substitution of Democratic policies for the policies of the Republican party. They will persist while the Democratic party continues in power. And the people cannot put the Democratic party out completely until two more years have elapsed.
However, on November 2 next they can give notice that they intend to put it out of power by electing a majority of straight Republicans to the House of Representatives and straight Republican Senators in States which offer the opportunity.
The moral effect will go far toward the restoration of normal industrial conditions, and there can be no doubt that the bankers and the farmers, and all other classes of the population will then share toward complete restoration of prosperity. And so, first of all, a Republican Congress—and let California put none but real Republicans on guard!

FROM THE GERMAN VIEWPOINT.
The Times has entered into an arrangement whereby it is enabled to present dispatches from within the German lines, separate and distinct from the official German communications of the General Staff and the War Office. These dispatches are sent by James F. Archibald, who is now at the German front, by authority of the German government. So far as known, Mr. Archibald is the only American representative of the press now within the German lines, empowered by the German military authorities to send matter to the American newspapers. Mr. Archibald's work will be a distinct achievement in that it will give the reading public the German "view of the case," in frankly presented dispatches, presented as such and intended to be accepted by all readers as such. His view of the allies and the successes or failures as the case may be of the allied armies will be the German view first and last. His reports will not bear the imprimatur of London, Paris, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Rome, Venice, Madrid, Petrograd, but will come to the Times office direct from his station within the German lines by wireless or other agency to the Atlantic seaboard and thence by direct wire to The Times office.
NACO AND WAR.
A little lady village always in the sun, half Mexican and half American, standing at a safe distance between Cananea and Bisbee, and willing to throw a stream of labor through its portals in either direction, lies indolent little Naco, the paradise of the rafter and the line rider with honorable intentions in all directions and no particular energy or aptitude in any. All through the last Mexican trouble Naco, which loves a shooting better than anything in the world, failed to get a shot at itself or anybody else. Agua Prieta, just a few miles away, had a perfectly good fight and glorified itself with a funeral pyre of a magnitude that few cities can boast. No wonder Naco was saloon. It is now getting over with a vengeance. It is having a big battle every other day without any war or cause of war. It is simply permitting everybody to shoot who wants to shoot and even Americans have the privilege of getting killed if they wish it. Of course, it can't last. One of two things must happen. Naco must be good or somebody will go to war. America doesn't like war, so of course it will be Mexico, which is to say Mexico against Mexico, and that will not be anything miraculous, either.

Stop Scrapping, Let Her In!

FOOD SUPPLY OF EUROPE.
A Rotterdam grain merchant, writing to an Edinburgh correspondent, denies the newspaper statement that Germany has a food supply that will last a year. He says that her usual supplies of grain from abroad that were ordered before the war had not reached her when the war broke out, and that of all the tremendous quantities of North and South American grain which Germany bought, nothing will reach her.
This correspondent writes that Indian corn in Holland is selling 75 per cent. above the price prevalent before the war. He adds:
"The same can be said of rye, barley, oats and wheat. Our government has taken the past week large parcels of wheat bought by Germans and on its way there, because we wanted it. This is the situation in Holland. But you should see how they are fixed in Germany. Not a day passes but I have scores of inquiries of all sorts of feeding stuffs. They are willing to pay any price, and will deposit the money in banks right here. As we have practically nothing ourselves, there is no chance of giving any away."
"This morning I had an inquiry for 500,000 sacks of American flour. I was asked to give my services to get this from the United States. The goods had to be declared to be for Germany when leaving New York, and if such was done, they came through, then I was told they could pass through our country to Germany. Payment would be made in New York before shipment was made."
Agents in Holland, it is said, had orders to buy up all bacon, meat, rice, eggs, etc., and they were sharp as gimlets. And she had a scrappy chin! With her tongue she tore her neighbors' Reputation up, and she In the days beyond recalling Had been christened Char-ty.
—(Houston Post.)

NEVER MIND THE TITLE.
Dear heart, could but the light return That never was on land or sea— That service, white flame that used to burn In all the dreams of you and me— Ah, could you take my hand once more, And walk through all the thorns and dew And muddy bog, and windy shore, In that Old World we knew (We two! In that dear land we knew!) Love, would you fly through all the years— The years, the ages left behind— To where the morn forgot her tears— To where the eve forgot her woe? Where I was waiting? Could you see The ancient glade wherein I stood And called you back to me?
Ah, if the poet hath a spell Or if there be a fairy love A word to lose you or rope! Your foes, and bring you back, once more— Can you not break your bonds and come? Can you not laugh again at fear? Can you not quit your martyrdom And hear—my dear?
—(Fred Robinson in Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

TALES OF THREE CITIES.
There was a young man in N. Y. Who never would eat with a P.Y. Said he, "All my life I have eat with a nife Roast beef, veal and mutton and P.Y."
A fisherman from Terre Haute Once bragged of a fish he had caught; But the fisherman's daughter Knew more than she said: And cried, "It was one that you baste!"
There was a young fellow in Butte Who went on a butterful tute. Next morning in bed He put ice on his head And murmured: "Oh why did I tute!"

DIVERGENT MARRIAGE LAWS.

BY TOM FITCH.

It is a curious fact that a marriage may be valid in one State and invalid in another; that whether the relation of husband and wife exists may be established in one State by the law of the State where the contract of marriage was entered into; that a couple may be husband and wife in New Jersey, where they were married, and guilty of unlawful cohabitation in New York, where they are domiciled.
The doctrine that a marriage which is valid where contracted is valid everywhere received a black eye in a Honolulu United States Court. Ah Sam was a Chinese merchant who became anxious to espouse a Celestial maiden living in Shanghai. He could not spare the time from his business to visit his native land, so he arranged to have a marriage by proxy performed in Shanghai, he being represented by his mother at the ceremony. Such a marriage is valid under Chinese law.
The lady departed the next day on the steamer as a first-class cabin passenger. Arrived at Honolulu she was met at the wharf by her husband. But she was also met by the United States Marshal, who took her into custody as a person who was endeavoring to evade the provisions of the Chinese exclusion act. The government call was crowded with sailors and smugglers and Chinamen of the male persuasion, and the Marshal, being a humane man, arranged for her temporary incarceration—pending deportation—at the house of a wealthy and responsible Chinaman, whose wife made a deputy marshal for the occasion.
The baffled husband invoked the services of a lawyer, who sued out a writ of habeas corpus demanding the release of the lady on the ground that her husband, being lawfully in the United States, had a right to the society of his wife. At the hearing the judge said that he was inclined to sustain the objection of the United States District Attorney that the lady was not the wife of Ah Sam. There had been no valid ceremony and no consummation of the marriage. A proxy marriage was invalid in this country, and it was by the laws of this country and not of China that the validity of the Chinese marriage must be decided. However, he would continue the hearing until Monday—it then being Friday—when he would hear counsel and also the application made by the United States District Attorney for an order of deportation of the woman.
The defendant and her female custodian, with their lawyer, withdrew, and on the road to the lady's temporary domicile, they stopped at the County Clerk's office, where a marriage license was procured and all parties proceeded to the residence of a Methodist clergyman. There, with the lawyer as best man and the clergyman's wife as bridesmaid, a marriage ceremony was performed between Mr. Ah Sam and Miss Yung Lee. The lady Jailer did not consider it inconsistent with her official duties to extend her hospitalities to the husband and to permit him to enjoy the society of his wife until Monday, and the marriage was duly consummated.
On Monday morning when the case was called the lawyer presented the marriage certificate and rested his case. The court ruled that the case must be decided on the facts as they existed when the writ of habeas corpus was sued out. He fined the lawyer $100 for contempt of court in promoting a marriage when the woman was in custody. He refused to discharge her and ordered her deported. He said to the lawyer, "I will suspend the execution of the order of deportation until you can perfect an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, as I presume you will desire to do."
Then up rose Ah Sam, livid with rage. "No," said he, "I no want appeal. I want my wife. You send her back to China, all right. I send out my business, and I like Melian law, I think it better it go to helio along with Melian judge."
The judge did not let Sam Lee for his outburst. The next morning he called the case to the Flower Kingdom and the judge remitted the lawyer's fine on his promise never to again promote a contempt of court marriage.

RIPLING RHYMES.
SOME OF THE POOR.
So many have no roofs or doors, no sheets to cuddle under! You hire some men to do your chores, and then you cease to wonder. Alas, it is so hard to find—who takes so much pursuing—the worker who will keep his mind on what he may be doing. I hire a man to saw some sticks and keep the fire a-going, and he discusses politics in language smooth and flowing; the saw grows rusty while he stands, the welkin shrinks and totters, as he, with swishing saws and bands of denunciations, keeps plotting. When I go home, as dusk grows dense, I hear his windy raves, and kick him sadly through the fence, when I have paid his wages. I hire a man to paint the churn and hoe the morning glories, and when at evening I return he's busy telling stories. "That toller is no good, I fear," remarks the hausfrau, Sally; I take him gently by the ear and lead him to the alley. I hire a man to do the black, and fix the kitchen table, and when at evening I come back, he's sleeping in the stable. And thus we suffer and endure the trifler's vain endeavor; we do not wonder that the poor are with us here forever.

CHIPS FROM OTHER BLOCKHEADS.
"Do you love me, Erb?" "Love yer, 'Liza, I should jest think I does. Why, if yer ever gives me up I'll murder yer! I can't say more'n that, can I?"—(Punch.)
"How was your big aris received?" asked one oratorio star of another. "When I sat down they said it was the best thing I ever did," was her reply.—(Canadian Courier.)
Hokus: I never knew such a wet blanket as Flubdub. Pokus: That's right. If that fellow should jump from the frying-pan into the fire he would put the fire out.—(Town Topics.)
"More tough luck," whispered his wife. "Well, what now?" he muttered. "You know Miss Green never stings without her music?" "Yes," replied the millionaire. "Someone has been fooling you. I began life as an infant."—(New York Times.)
Lady: Yes, they are very nice gooseberries, but aren't they dirty! Street Vendor: Dirty! Pink I can wash 'em and part their 'air dahn the center for tuppence a pound in these 'ere war times!—(Liverpool Mercury.)
The Groom: Well, Bill, you won't see the groom's horse any more; they've taken him for the army. The Gardener: Oh! I suppose now he's going to be what the French call a "horse de combat."—(London Opinion.)

A group of well-known society people, including Mrs. Hugh Livingston Macneil, Mrs. J. B. Clauson, Mrs. J. P. Sartori, and Mrs. Alfred Bolano, have engaged a section of the balcony at Trinity, directly opposite the stage, which they will occupy with their friends for the Friday afternoon concert.

Mrs. Allen Balch has a group of seats also in the east balcony, and other reservations in the same location have been made by Mrs. Hancock Rannin, Mrs. Albert Wing, and Mrs. Elsie Halliday.

WOMEN'S WORK. WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY AGNES THURNAU.

Like Buddha, Jesus, Hypatia, Susan B. Anthony, and all great souls with a message for the good of humanity, Ellen Key is ahead of her time. She transcends moral laws. She lives in the realm of the spiritual; there, one is morality itself. Moral laws are no longer needed.

She makes a wonderful plea for the conservation of spirituality as opposed to the tendency of modern woman to become intoxicated with her newly-gained power, and in her economic and political culture to forget spiritual culture. In other words Ellen Key feels that modern woman, especially the American woman, is losing sight of the main chance. She is so busy with immediate new activities that she neglects the greatest good of the world to see only what is in the foreground. She is not looking far enough ahead to see that the profoundest culture, that which makes the greatest good of the world, is that of the spirit, and that is the test of all value—spiritual, purely, in its last analysis. The great Swedish philosopher touches deep fundamentals when she says: "Just as the difference between man and woman is not a matter of sex, so also is it essential in the cultural life."

She believes that all the activity of women throughout the world today is the great evolutionary principle of life urging the child bearers of humanity toward a more perfect race; that a more perfect race means a more soulful race; that a more soulful race means a race with a greater capacity for love.

Man's evolution along spiritual lines has begun. The present age is pregnant with the greatest urge and surge that ever thrilled the humanity of the planet. It is the hour of liberation from many things. And it means that a great work of spiritual regeneration will be wrought by women. Recluses, occultists and mystics have long taught this to a chosen few. Ellen Key, apostle of the future, proclaims it to the whole wide world.

Even the third sex, bombs and torch in hand, must realize it in time.

Chevrolet, Former Race Champ. Enters Cactus Derby.

PHOENIX LISTS SWELLED AGAIN.

Famous French Driver Signs to Fight Barney.

Added Class in Desert Run from Phoenix.

Twenty Machines now to Hit Cactus Trail.

A sensation was sprung in connection with the closing of the post entries in the Los Angeles-Phoenix race of November 9, 10 and 11, yesterday.

It was the entry of Louis Chevrolet, the only, the man who years ago retired from the racing game.

For years racing promoters had been coaxing and cajoling Chevrolet to join the "come backs." He was obdurate. Enamored in a palatial home and drawing dividends from his manufacturing interests, he turned a tin ear to all appeals.

But he is off his pedestal now and will be the second to leave the starting line on the long trek to Phoenix. His decision is due to the making of the winner of this race the master driver of the world. Chevrolet's entrance fee has been paid and the man who sneered at the fortune that goes to the winner at Indianapolis has expressed his car to this city and is due to arrive himself next week.

He is coming in the hope of winning a watch for a medal that cost $150, but bears the inscription "The winner of this race has won the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race, thereby proving himself to be the master driver of the world."

It is said Chevrolet has more medals, cups and other racing souvenirs in his collection than any other man in the world.

After making a pot shot at the racing triumphs in Europe, the Frenchman first came to this country with the Fiat. He set out to do in America what had been easy for him abroad. After winning the hill-climbing and beach events of the East, driving in the Vanderbilt and Grand Prix contests, hundreds of minor races with Bob Burman, a team-mate and twice being a competitor at Indianapolis, he declared he was ready to quit.

Chevrolet is said to be the most spectacular driver the sport has developed. No curve was too sharp for him to cut at high speed and wherever there was a chance to pass the car ahead he took it, although hub caps scraped as he made his passes.

The motor-maker will start in second place in the race. His car replaces the Chevrolet entered locally, which becomes No. 20. This will speed up the race, as Barney Oldfield will be but six minutes later in starting, and the Indianapolis start will be sent along at top speed to overtake No. 2. There is said to exist between Chevrolet and Oldfield a feud that was born years ago that in a real Kentucky intensity, and makes the Oldfield-De Palma feeling only a squab.

The other post entry for the race is C. M. Du Bois, of Phoenix, who will drive a Cole car. J. Caminetti is named as his rear. The entries are now closed, the Cole being No. 21. A substantial addition has been made to the purse by the number of entries reaching twenty.

The Ontario City Council has suspended the city ordinance regulating the speed of motor vehicles between the hours of 6:15 and 7:15 o'clock on the morning of November 9, in order that the Phoenix race may be unhindered in their mad dash from Los Angeles to the Arizona City. The Council also instructed Chief of Police W. O. Hardy to make arrangements for sufficient deputies to guard crossings during the hour of the race and to keep the course clear. Several thousand race fans will greet the speed kings in this city.

ON SCOUTING TRIP. (SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SANTA ANA, Oct. 22.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon Henley Ellis, who is to drive No. 18, a Buick, in the Phoenix race, started out for a scouting trip over the course. He is accompanied by his brother, Boyd, his mechanic.

While they are using Boyd Ellis's B.M.F. for the trip, Henley Ellis's 1916 Buick will be in the hands of a mechanic here. It will be put into first-class condition for the race. This is the same car that was driven to Phoenix by the Ellis brothers in the last race. While the brothers did not finish within the money, they missed it by so little that they enter the new race with a great deal of confidence in their skill and in their car.

With them the race is a matter of sport. By occupation the Ellis brothers are bean growers. They are both good mechanics as well as good farmers, and they know all that is to be known about their car.

OAKLAND, Oct. 22.—Whatever doubt existed regarding the 1914 pennant in the Pacific Coast League race was eliminated here today. Portland's defeat of San Francisco and the victory over Los Angeles in the south settling the struggle in favor of the northers. The score was 8 to 5, and the game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. Score:

SEE IT UP TOGETHER.

From a hospital cot to a cell in the City Jail, John Steg, a cafe employee living at No. 413 North Hill street, was taken yesterday afternoon and charged with disturbing the peace. Across the corridor from him is Peter Bolkowich, who yesterday morning shot him in the thigh while the two were in the street in front of No. 177 West Third street. Earlier in the night Bolkowich is charged with having made a potato salad in a manner not recognized by law and his co-worker reported him to the owner of the Spring-street cafe in which they were employed. Bolkowich was discharged and vented his ire in the flash of his revolver. Steg was taken to the Receiving Hospital, but his wound was found to be not serious.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—A walk, a double, two triples, and a home run occurring in the Mission half of the fifth inning of today's game with Oakland, sent four runs across the plate, more than enough to win from the Oaks, who were blanked 7 to 0. Mission's remaining runs occurred in the eighth inning when second batter raly metted three singles. Score:

MICHIGAN TEAM CHANGED FOR EASTERN INVASION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Oct. 22.—Yost sprung his customary mid-season surprise this afternoon when he announced the line-up which he will start on Saturday against the Orangemen in the Syracuse Stadium.

Johnny Lyons, ex-right end, will appear at right half-back, Whalen will be in the flanker's former place and Benton will occupy the other end of the Michigan line. Either Zeiger or Huebel will play quarter-back in place of the injured Tommy Huggitt.

The shift which resulted in Whalen's going to right end was a big surprise to the routers in that they had confidently expected Dume to occupy that place on Saturday. But Yost has decreed otherwise and will send the recruit in at the wing.

A long signal drill this afternoon and a chalk talk this evening preceded the team's departure at 3:30 o'clock for the East. The following is the line-up which Yost has announced as the one he will start against Syracuse: Benton, left end; Watson, left tackle; Rahr, left guard; Capt. Raynor, center; Moffat, right guard; Cochran, right tackle; Whalen, right end; Zeiger or Huebel, quarter-back; Maulbetz, left half-back; Splawn, full-back; and Lyons, right half-back.

SAN DIEGO IS SWITCHING LINE-UP FOR LONG BEACH.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 22.—Coach Price is switching the positions of many of the men of the San Diego High in preparation for the Saturday game when the local eleven meets the Long Beach team, which is the strongest team the San Diego boys will play in the series.

Dana, the crack half-back of the team, needs assistance in the back field, as through the loss of Mallette, half-back, and Engstrom, the back field is weakened. Pike has been switched to half-back from end, but this places Coach Price in a quandary, as Pike is also a good end.

Deeds is being tried at end, a change that is working out to good advantage in the switching of Davidson from tackle to guard, and Field is changed from end to half-back.

The second squad now has Mallette, quarter-back; Sabourin, left half-back, and Baker, half-back, all heavier men than those on the first squad. They have been disqualified by recent rulings of the football conference, and with these men the second squad has walked right through the first squad.

Price has issued a call for men, and

GAVY CRAVATH RETURNS TO SANTA ANA AGAIN.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SANTA ANA, Oct. 22.—Gavy Cravath, silder of the Philadelphia Nationals, and holder of the season's record for home runs in the National and American League, arrived today, and went to his home at Laguna Beach, where he will spend the winter hunting, swimming, fishing and watching other men build a house on one of his lots.

"Clouting Cactus" and his wife started home in a Ford automobile, but got no further than Kansas City. At that point they got a telegram telling them of the serious illness of Mrs. Cravath's father in Los Angeles, so they took a train.

During the season Cravath knocked out nineteen home runs. During the first two months of the season the and San Bernardino at Pomona. Pomona should win without trouble, seeing that Clint Evans has a combination that beat the L.A.A.C. The Riverside-Redlands game should be a tough struggle. Both are rivals of long standing.

There will be two interurban league games in the city tomorrow. Both will be played in the morning. Monrovia will play the cadets at Harvard, while Lincoln and Compton will play at the old Occidental field. The games will start at 10 o'clock. Last Saturday Harvard defeated Gadena 9 to 0 and Lincoln won from Monrovia 3 to 0. The cadets should win without trouble. But Compton will make Coach Foley's men hump.

HAP HOGAN WILL MAKE SPEECHES.

TIGER CHEFTAIN TO APPEAR ON STUMP FOR CANDIDATES.

Not to be outdone by Christy Mathewson and "Home Run" Baker, who have signed up with the Voters' League to make political stump speeches for their respective candidates for political office, "Hap" Hogan, manager of the Venice team, has decided to do likewise.

Hogan, who is a constituent in the Seventy-second District in which Harry A. Chamberlin is the Republican candidate for State Assembly, will take the stump in Chamberlin's behalf next week after the close of the Pacific Coast baseball season.

"I'm not much of an orator, but I want to help my friend Chamberlin out. I have watched him work his way up from the very bottom of the ladder and I want to help him out. If elected I know he'll make good," said Hogan yesterday.

It is rumored that Chamberlin's opponent is endeavoring to enlist the services of a good "pinch hitter" to offset Hogan's oratory.

SANTA ANA AFTER WHITTIER ELEVEN.

CONQUERORS OF SAN DIEGO HOPE TO ROLL UP BIG SCORE.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SANTA ANA, Oct. 22.—Santa Ana High School routers are hoping that their football team will run up a big score against Whittier High in the game to be played at Whittier Saturday afternoon. Coach Hall has been giving his team light scrimmages this week, tuning the men up on signals and special plays. While some of the boys are limping from slight injuries received last Saturday, when the team defeated San Diego High, the team as a whole is in excellent shape.

The lineup Saturday will be: Stewart, center; Catland and Best, guards; Pets and Irvine, tackles; Winbigler and Burkett, ends; Morrison, quarter; Certy and Flavan, halves; Holzgraef (captain) full.

AT THE STAGE
Door

Probably you've noticed how Hans Kronold, noted artist at the Orpheum, holds the crowd even with that howl of music. He says that people don't know it, but they really like good music always when it's interpreted by an artist.

When he opened at the Palace, New York, in vaudeville, he says he was deathly afraid of the gallery, far more afraid than he ever was of the European crowned heads, because crowned heads are always polite anyway, and galleries are so awfully sincere and so frank about expressing themselves.

"I had been told I must play popular music," he said. "But I determined I'd rather fall with my own music than win with anything inferior. I felt cold all over that night, last month, when I stepped out before that New York vaudeville audience. There was a little uneasy stirring in the house, but I began playing. I knew it was the first five minutes that sealed my fate. And at the end of the five minutes I knew I had them!"

It's really more of a satisfaction to win the "peepul," says the musician, than to win a concert audience. Mr. Kronold says the photograph is the greatest press-agent good music ever had. It wouldn't have been possible, a few years ago, before photographs became popular, for musical artists to appear in vaudeville.

Mr. Kronold claims his strong, yet wonderfully pure tones are produced through his playing according to the Belgian school, which teaches the development of the wonderful little tone muscles between the thumb and forefinger, which in most of us is flabby, but in Mr. Kronold's hand is like a piece of steel.

Will Wyatt yesterday announced that he had received bookings for May Irwin, at the Mason, later on. The fair May will bring her cookery along, of course. Miss Irwin, you know, is more proud of her ability to perform on the cook stove than her ability to perform on the spotlight; she is more interested in the humble soup than the humble sup; she exalts the cauliflower above the hothouse flower, and far above the luxurious lobster is a Newburg, she claims the humble bean with open taste.

Hermine Shone, the lovely girl who looks like a Quakeress, but doesn't make a noise like one, at the Orpheum, is laying her pipes to escape from the two-day into the "legit" and hopes to be placed in a play, next year, in which to create the leading role. She wants a regular girl-part, in which she can look as natural as a drink of water, and still have some good hard acting to do. Harley Manner, please write!

Miss Hermine is a great outdoor girl. She likes to take a drive every morning, and takes a drive in a motor car, or goes to the beach for a swim, or hikes for a couple of miles out in the country.

And she performs well on the rowboat. About which she tells a story of her vacation last summer, when she and Emmet DeVole, with whom she was then playing, went for a row on the river in Grand Rapids. "I was rowing," she said, "and when we started to land, Mr. DeVole began to fuss at my manner of maneuvering the boat, as he called it, and the oars, but was even less satisfied with his own performance. So I took them again. Still he kept complaining, and saying we were going to be upset. I kept getting madder and madder.

"Finally, though I was all dolled up in a pink parasol, pink gown and a hat with roses on it, I got so angry I couldn't stand it any longer, and took a header into the water! Everybody on shore thought it was a suicide or murder or something, and tried to save me, but I swam ashore by myself, and Mr. DeVole and I didn't speak for a week except on the stage, and never went for another row!"

Mae Busch, beautiful of the Beauties at the Orpheum, has resigned from the company, and will take a trip to Honolulu, with Mr. D. Smith of San Francisco, where they will spend a month viewing the island night.

Miss Busch is an expert swimmer and wants to learn the swimming sport of surf riding. She has many offers in moving pictures and stock work, and will probably go into stock work in San Francisco when she returns from the islands.

I saw a $500 gown in its death shroud yesterday! Awful the death rate of clothes in moving-picture work! Kathryn Williams, Wheeler Oakman and Charles Gray were being put through a hard rehearsal by Director Colin Campbell in a scene in which Miss Williams wears a beautiful pink silk negligee.

It was an impassioned scene of love and hate, and just as the actors were registering trouble with their might, rip! rip! went something. Somebody had stepped on the pink silk train, and it was torn plumb down its mooring.

But nobody mourned, really, for some really great acting had been done, and the camera hadn't witnessed the tea-table tragedy.

Charlie Kelly, heading his own company at the Hippodrome, unleashed his pet dream last night, a temple of music in Ireland which shall foster the music of Erin. He has options on a site there and will take possession, he says, on the day when the rule becomes a reality in Erin. Jim Norton, Bert Malcom, Roybie Tucker, and Joe Welch are the most recent prizes of the Leow Circuit.

That colonial costume worn in the act of the six American dancers at the Orpheum, this week, is authentic. It is an exact copy of the one worn by a certain colonel, Amos Lovensburg, ancestor of Estelle and Adelaide Lovensburg, two of the dancers who fought in the Revolution in the army of George Washington. And the hoop-skirted affair, also worn in the act by one of the girls, is a replica of one still in the family, worn by the grandmother of the two girls, whose husband was a major in the army of Grant in the Civil War. Historically correct are both costumes.

Mme. Keeler, costuming "The Red Widow," is holding more rehearsals than the stage manager! Everybody in the play inhabits several different costumes.

And they are some costumes. Grace Edmunds and Beatie De Vols have each three gorgeous gowns. That of Miss Edmunds, in the Vienna style, all a wonderful shade of cherry velvet, and sturdily bejeweled lace, is a poem. While Miss De Vols' dancing dress, flit all filmy lace and sparkling gems, is hardly long enough for a poem; but it's sure a lovely paragraph.

Alexander, the youth who impersonates the smart colored girl at the Orpheum, studied the real type in Richmond, Virginia, his native city, and thus presents a figure to life. Scott, his partner, who does the minstrel man, was with the Dockader show, and knows whereof he sings. Alexander has a natural contralto falsetto Vaudeville headlines. The upper picture is of Alice Hanson of the Empress bill. The other two pictures are of Hermine Shone, one of the stars at the Orpheum this week and next.

COUNTRY CLUB GOSSIP.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

FIRST-ROUND match play in the big Los Angeles Country Club tournament will be concluded tomorrow (Saturday), when thirty-two matches will be decided.

Tomorrow, also, there is to be a round-robin tennis tournament at the San Gabriel Country Club, for which D. A. Jacobs will be responsible. There are nearly thirty entries so far, and the club will entertain its members to tea on the lawn in the afternoon.

The Midway Country Club has published golf fixtures to the end of the season. Tomorrow, the 24th, a medal play handicap. Next Saturday, the 31st, which is also Halloween, there will be a match play handicap event for the club cup. November 7, a tombstone tournament, and for the end of November continuous play for the club cup, for which the conditions of play are match play against bogey, three-quarter club handicap, eight scores to qualify for the prize.

All the clubs are planning gay Halloween parties and dances, and the Midway in particular is making fantastic and eerie arrangements. One must positively dress in farm attire and go prepared to enter into all the frolicsome games of one's youth, from bobbing apples to kiss in the ring.

On that day there will also be tennis and golf tournaments—the tennis a men's doubles handicap event. Annandale will draw up a list of fixtures this week, too. In the meantime her members are shining in the sixties and seventies as a matter of course. Following Horace Major's 71, recorded a short time back, Charles H. Biggar must needs eclipse it with a 69. Both of these players have arrived at that state of superiority where they regard 74 as a poor thing. It will be observed that Annandale has an idea that she is going to retain the team championship cup again this year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—An opportunity to bring peace to the warring baseball factions will be presented here tomorrow, and Saturday when the club owners and officers of the Federal League meet to discuss the campaign for next season.

American National and International club owners are on their way to New York and despite declarations that they will not take cognizance of the so-called "quaker" organization meeting, it is expected they will not refuse to meet the Federals if given the opportunity.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Four clubs, all outside of Chicago, have made bids for the 1915 amateur championship tournament of the Western Golf Association. It was announced today by R. R. Stone, secretary of the association. All bids must be filed by November 1. The Mayfield Club of Cleveland, the Glen Echo Club of St. Louis, the Indianapolis Country Club and the Milwaukee Country Club are the organizations seeking the championship tournament. The Omaha Country Club, Secretary Stone said, probably also would bid for the tournament.

lost the spectacular element which characterized the business thirty years ago.

"Mining is conducted along hard and fast business lines now," Mr. Newhouse declared yesterday at the Alexandria. "Consequently it is not as fascinating as it was in the old days. Now there is a good deal of attention given to cost sheets and all that sort of thing, but we didn't use to give attention to such considerations. Skilled labor and new machinery have also made great changes in the mining business."

"Mining men were at their most reckless stage in the early '80s. In those days when a man made a strike in Colorado he went to Denver to celebrate. The new-rich prospectors frequently threw $10 to $15 gold pieces at actresses on the stage and sometimes gave away gold in large quantities to employees around the hotels. We don't see any of that now."

Mr. Newhouse lives in Salt Lake City where he owns office buildings and other valuable property. He has lately built a large hotel in the Utah city, which he has named the Newhouse.

Colorado gold and Utah copper have yielded millions of dollars to Samuel L. CUTS KEPT IN JAIL.
Shortly after being jailed for drunkenness, D. B. McClintock, 34 years old, surreptitiously obtained a butcher knife from the jail kitchen and was later found by jailers with his left wrist slashed and bleeding profusely. The wound was sutured at the Receiving Hospital and McClintock will recover.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association has purchased new track and field and cross-country trophies to take the place of the cups won last year by the Cornell University athletes.

COUNCIL EXPRESSES HOPE FOR CONSOLIDATION.

Instructs City Attorney and Municipal Efficiency Commission to Prepare Necessary Changes in Charter and State Laws to Permit Elimination of Duplicate Offices.

"Resolved that this Council expresses the hope that the technical difficulties which now prevent the fulfillment of the plans thus formulated may be promptly and completely removed."

This is the expression of the City Council in resolutions adopted yesterday wherein it thanks the Board of Supervisors and other county officials for their cordial and active co-operation in the plans for the consolidation of assessment and tax collection functions of the city with similar county offices.

This resolution was introduced by Councilman Conwell. He also presented a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, providing for the immediate preparation of proposed changes in the city charter and State laws that will clear the way for action on consolidation. The resolution says:

Whereas, the City Council has been advised by the City Attorney that it is impracticable under the existing provisions of the city charter and State laws to proceed with the consolidation of the assessment and tax collection functions of city and county; and

Whereas, the interests of economy, efficiency and convenience to the public service demand the prompt amendment of the city charter and State laws; and

Resolved, that the City Council hereby instructs the City Attorney to prepare a bill to amend the city charter and State laws to permit the consolidation of the assessment and tax collection functions of city and county; and

AUTO WAS HER'S, NOT HUSBAND'S.

80 DAYS SPANISH BEAUTY IN SUIT AGAINST SHERIFF.

Officer Alleged to have Sold Car Belonging to Woman to Settle Judgment Against Man from Whom She is now Divorced. Family Details Made Known.

A Spanish beauty of the type whose praises might have been sung by the troubadours, is the plaintiff in a suit on trial before Judge Jackson. She is Mrs. Annie de la Arena, the former wife of a broker now living in Utah, and she is suing Sheriff Hammel for $5000 damages, alleging he seized and sold to satisfy a judgment obtained against her husband, a high-priced Italian automobile which she owned.

Embarrassing the cold court story is the tale of Mrs. de la Arena's divorce last May and the circumstances surrounding it. She is about 35, tall and lithe, with flashing black eyes and long black tresses. Notwithstanding her declared divorce, Mrs. de la Arena declared in court that she treated him with consummate cruelty, "abuse, nagging and insults" being alleged. He obtained the decree.

According to Mrs. de la Arena's complaint, her husband gave her his 1910 Isotta Fraschini passenger torpedo body auto and bought a 1910 car for himself from the White Garage. His chauffeur continued to drive the Italian machine, and it is alleged that Mrs. de la Arena used it.

The White Garage sued Mrs. de la Arena on overdue notes given when she bought the 1910 automobile. It is alleged that she refused to pay the notes, and the garage obtained judgment against her. The sheriff, believing that both cars belonged to Mrs. de la Arena, seized and sold both to satisfy the judgment. Mrs. de la Arena declares the Italian car was easily worth $1000, and she demands that amount.

She contended that the notes were not due at the time Mr. de la Arena gave her the big handsome car, and that Mr. de la Arena had a perfect right to make her a present of it.

Mr. de la Arena's divorce suit was filed March 10, last. Judge Taft granted the decree May 16.

THE MOOSE AGAIN.

NO RECEIVER FOR THEM.

On the ground that the court had no jurisdiction, Presiding Judge Wood yesterday declined to appoint a receiver for Los Angeles Lodge No. 288, Loyal Order of Moose, on the application of Attorney Fourie. The application was brought from First street by Dr. Orlando H. West against the lodge for professional services amounting to $1000.

The complaint alleges that the lodge is financially embarrassed, and liabilities only $1000. Expensive litigation was sought as a means of escaping the alleged harassment, but in view of the court's action it is stated that Dr. West's action may be dismissed and other action taken.

THOSE TWENTY-SIX.

DENIES INCOMPETENCY.

The $15,000 estate of Anson Litchfield is ready to be distributed to his stepson, James Franklin Mullen, aged 49, and because they allege he is incompetent. Mrs. Lily Murphy and Burton Mullen ask that the former be appointed his guardian to safeguard the property. Reinforcing the petition are twenty-six reasons, among which are habitual intemperance and loss of memory. Mr. Mullen stoutly declares that he is as capable as any man of his years. The fight is staged for the Probate Court today.

Mr. Mullen is residing with a son, Wallace Mullen, at No. 177 West Forty-first street. He is represented by J. Wiseman MacDonald. Another child is Mrs. Jennie Spaulding. Mrs. Murphy is content to have any suitable person the court selects appointed guardian for her father. The estate consists of ranch property in Santa Cruz county.

ALL SUCCESSFUL.

NO FAILURES FOR HER.

"The real reason you gave up the lease was because you were not making any money, wasn't it?" Attorney R. L. Horton asked Mrs. Edith Perrett in her suit against Ellabeth and Margaret Gardiner for $1000 damages and the return of $450 paid down on the lease of the apartment-house at No. 2118 South Grand avenue. The parties to the suit, evidently unused to the board furnished them.

"I never made a failure of anything; I did make money," Mrs. Perrett replied. The Gardiners, from whom she leased the premises, she said, insulted her tenants and criticized the board furnished them.

"We did everything we could to make the venture a success," Mrs. Perrett testified yesterday that he is not worth a dollar. The estate consists of ranch property in Santa Cruz county.

They asked in their answer for $150 a month from March 18 to the date of the trial of Mrs. Perrett's action. The court took the matter under submission.

CONFLICT ARISES.

TESTIMONY NOT THE SAME.

A conflict of testimony in the $25,000 damage suit of Miss Florence Mackintosh and the $400 damage suit of R. N. Carter against Dr. Lowell C. Frost, growing out of a collision at Hollywood boulevard and Vista street, October 28, 1913, adds to the difficulty of deciding who is liable for the accident which damaged Mr. Carter's car and injured Miss Mackintosh.

The case was concluded before Judge Shenk yesterday and submitted. If the accident occurred where Mr. Carter said it did, Dr. Frost is liable. If it did not occur there, he is not. A city ordinance governs the case. When the autos collided Mr. Carter and Miss Mackintosh were in one car. The Frost car was occupied by the chauffeur, Jack Foidenstetter, Dr. W. Jarvis Barlow and Miss Russell, a nurse.

COURTROOM ARREST.

Frank Bright, wanted for failure to provide for his wife and child, was arrested in Judge Monroe's courtroom yesterday while waiting for his wife's divorce suit to be called. He was sent to jail. The divorce suit was called in the afternoon by H. H. Warner, who deposed his wife in 1913, so she stated yesterday in a divorce action. She was given the decree and the custody of their child. Mrs. Bright is singing in this city.

NOT CONGENIAL.

Gladys Newton found a musical soul in Emanuel S. Drew. They were married at Montgomery, Ala., May 3, 1910, but matrimony was trying to Mrs. Drew, who deserted his wife in 1913, so she stated yesterday in a divorce action. She was given the decree and the custody of their child. Mrs. Bright is singing in this city.

GOES GLIMMERING.

"DRY" SQUABBLE NIL.

The $25,000 libel suit of Charles E. Stokes, former secretary of the Executive Committee of the State Central Committee of the Prohibition party of California, against Charles R. Burger, George F. Thompson and Charles E. Jones, members of the committee, went to glimmering yesterday when Judge Clarke granted a non-suit.

The court found that the alleged libel in four communications sent out to members of the committee, was in the nature of a privileged communication. Further, that the evidence was not sufficient to show malice. Among other things complained by Mr. Stokes was the statement that he tried to disrupt the committee and was a trouble-maker.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

KINDNESS REWARDED.

In recognition of his kind and devoted attention and assistance to her without compensation and in winding up the affairs of her late husband, Samuel Meyer, Mrs. Johanna Meyer, who died at Venice, September 14, last, gave her son, Gabe S. Meyer, $3000 in addition to an equal share with the other children in her $40,000 estate.
